He took occasion to refer to the "cross broads" of Indians in Utah, and the "cross breeds" of Indians in Utah, and said Mexico was the best place for all such roving depredators. He favored sending men to Chicago who were most widely known, not only at home, but in the national councils of the party, (Applause) regardless of where they lived in Utah.

When Judge Henderson's name was mentioned a storm broke loose always.

mentioned, a storm broke loose almost equal to that provided by the naming of Thatcher. He was so evidently the choice of the house that Mr. Evans took the stage and moved that the rules be suspended and Judge Henderson be chosen by acclamation. This went with a whoop, and the convention tessed bats in the size the convention tossed hats in the sir. shook umbrellas and caues and waved arms in the most frantic manner, in stand-ing up to make the motion unanimous. Mesers, Lett. Gash and Norrell wore sent after Judge Henderson, and in the mean-was called for. He made a trief, but thoughtful and eloquent speech, in which he punctured the fallacies of protection and bounty, and paid a tribute to the founders of the Democratic party. The address was loudly applauded.

Ninth—That this convention unqualifiedly condismn the report of the immority of the fleurist condition in the stage of the summer of the committee for the reason that the same is false so far as it pretends to state faces, it is sindenous in of a self-cental to state faces, it is sindenous in that it proposes to continue the present system of missovernment in this territory. It deserves only the condemnation of all self-frespecting clitzens of this territory.

Whereas, the people of Utah are vexed and oppressed by the most cruel system of government which has ever existed in the history of America. As proof of this let the facts be stated, that our fellow clitzens of the Union may realize our heigless condition.
